

<https://verdi-bub.de/seminar/4953>

Themenplan

Fundamentals of occupational health and safety for works councils

Healthy work environment, healthy establishment

What are the main health hazards in any work environment?

Labour – Health – Sickness: Background knowledge; societal trends

Health risks – resilience – sickness

Changes in the world of work; changing demands for occupational health and safety

Modern occupational health and safety: Protective goals, principles and methods, and prevention mandate

Occupational health and safety legislation: Introduction and overview

Dual occupational health and safety system, accident insurance institutions/occupational compensation associations, federal occupational health and safety administration, and public health insurance

Occupational health and safety management within the company: Distribution of responsibilities, cooperation between stakeholders, and management principles (employer, occupational health and safety committee, medical officer/company doctor, occupational health and safety specialist, and safety inspectors)

Tasks regarding occupational health and safety

Risk assessment according to § 5 ArbSchG: From analysis to monitoring efficacy (brief introduction)

Physical and mental health hazards

The tasks and role of the works council members who monitor occupational health and safety

Participation and co-determination rights; the works council's scope for action

Works council participation in the occupational health and safety committee

The role of the employees regarding occupational health and safety; their rights and duties

Occupational health management (brief introduction)

The participation of those affected as experts in their own right; workplace health promotion (brief overview)

Index „Gute Arbeit“ (brief overview)

Occupational health and safety initiatives from select works councils

A systematic approach to occupational health and safety activities